

Review of: "Navigating Complexity: Uncovering the Intricate Dynamics Between Intellectual Capital, Efficiency, and Performance in Taiwan's Banking Sector"

Raza Ali Tunio<sup>1</sup>

<sup>1</sup> Sichuan University

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

1. The article addresses a timely and relevant issue as it explores the growing significance of intangible assets, particularly intellectual capital, in the global landscape, and its impact on the performance of Taiwan's banks.
2. Ensure that the findings and their implications are presented in a clear and accessible manner. This will help both researchers and practitioners in understanding the complexities revealed by the study.
3. Elaborate further on the practical implications of the research findings. How can these findings inform strategic decisions within Taiwan's banking sector? Providing actionable insights for practitioners will enhance the paper's impact.
4. Conclude the article by suggesting avenues for future research. This could involve exploring specific aspects not covered in the current study or investigating the identified complexities in greater detail.