

Review of: "Enhancing Business Model Resilience in the Machine Tools Industry: A Case Study of ABC Company"

Mohammad Reza Saadatmand

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The topic is good. The paper "Enhancing Business Model Resilience in the Machine Tools Industry: A Case Study of ABC Company" does a good job of examining the idea of business model resilience in the machine tools sector. The literature review, however, falls short because it does not adequately inform readers about the paper's contributions to science or practice. Despite this flaw, the essay is well-written and offers insightful information in a way that is both straightforward and interesting