

Review of: "[Hypothesis] The protective role of Testosterone in COVID-19"

Michał Boraczynski¹

¹ University of Warmia and Masuria in Olsztyn

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

In order to better substantiate the research problem undertaken, I suggest performing a more comprehensive analysis of the scientific literature on the subject of testosterone and COVID-19.

Efforts should also be made to implement clinical trials to verify the hypothesis. In addition to testosterone levels, it would be worthwhile to include blood cortisol levels in the analysis, since high levels of cortisol correlate strongly with a higher risk of severe COVID-19.

The text in its current form is suitable for publication only as a commentary or short communication.