Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

Title: Follow the correct nomenclatural rule – Oreochromis niloticus should be re-written as Oreochromis niloticus (L.)

Abstract: This is okay. Insert a space before 'fed' on line 2. Check for grammar and correct all grammar errors; this also applies to other sections.

Introduction: It is well-written and sufficient. The first mention of spp. name should be in full; subsequent mentions can have the generic name abbreviated for consistency.

Methods: It is well-written and accurate.

Write DM as dry matter.

Results: This section is also well-written.

To maintain consistency, hyphenate by-products and by-catch throughout the text.

Discussion: The discussion section is well-written. The results were discussed well and accurately, and the study objectives were clearly met and discussed.
