This article provides comprehensive understanding of the impact of nutrition on the lives of women, girls and the whole family. It is suggested that the authors provide incite reference for most of the data in this paper. Furthermore, there is a need to provide a brief overview on the SGDs the authors highlighted in this paper and specify how the suggested policies will contribute to the acheivement of these SGDs. Additionally, it will be good to highlight the main challenges to be faced in the application of these policies.
