Review of: "Sustaining Gender Parity in Corporate Leadership Roles by Means of Random Selection"

Dr. Aqil Waqar Khan Khan

1 University of Haripur

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

Abstract:

Abstract section is lacking in some key aspects. Firstly what is the reason for exploring role of sustaining gender parity in corporate leadership. Secondly what is the problem and how this study will be helpful in solving the problem. Thirdly which techniques will be utilized in the study?

Introduction

Old references and weakly organized

Literature Review

Missing

Methodology

Failed to clearly state variables and their role either dependent or independent

Failed to explain research strategy and technique

Failed to measure basic descriptive, correlation and regression models.

Results and Discussion

Overall discussion is weak with old citations support.

Conclusion:

Overall research study is lacking in many dimensions and need a lot of revisions before possible consideration of publication.