

Review of: "Neoliberalism, Strong State and Democracy"

Gareth Dale¹

¹ Brunel University Uxbridge

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

This phrase summarises an essential point very well, and cuts through a lot of confusion:

“The guiding principle of neoliberalism is not the minimal state, but minimal democracy in economic, social, and policy issues.”