

Review of: "Tweeting AI: A Machine Learning Approach for Bird Species Detection and Classification"

Sohaib R. Awad

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare. No potential competing interests to declare.

Dear Authors,

I would like to suggest some improvements for this article, as I believe it would be more appropriate as a practical tutorial rather than a research paper. Here are the specific points to consider:

1. Please enhance the sentences in the abstract section.
2. Make sure to include proper citations throughout the article.
3. It is not necessary to include the entire code in the paper.
4. The main scheme or diagram illustrating how the system works should be included.
5. Provide detailed information about the dataset used.
6. The article lacks a novel approach or contribution.
7. Include more references to support your claims and provide additional resources.
8. Major revisions are required to address the issues mentioned.
9. Please review the grammar and ensure it is correct.

I hope these suggestions will help you improve the article effectively.

Best regards,

[Sohaib R. Awad]