Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

1. The structure of the paper needs to meet the standards required for an article.
2. Figures are included without proper attribution or corresponding reference.
3. The review of the state of the art needs to be revised or made more present.
4. All references come from web pages; none come from academic journals.
5. The document looks more like a school report than an academic article.
