

Review of: "The Effect of Group-Based Family Orientation to Community Mental Health Services"

Chong Zhang

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

I think this is a valuable research. I have the following three comments:

1. Please check whether the data in the Sample description is consistent with Table 1.
2. It is suggested to add the analysis of how the initial family orientation session (IGS) affects the administration rates and overall days in service in the discussion section.
3. It is suggested to appropriately increase the length of the introduction.