The research topic to understand the academic use of emerging technologies is very interesting. Overall, this paper is very well structured, a comprehensive literature review is conducted, and appropriate statistical methodology is used to validate the UTAUT model to understand the academic use of the emerging technologies model. At the end of the abstract, a sentence could be added to touch upon the implications of the results briefly. Grammar, punctuation, and some sentences could be rewritten for enhanced reader clarity.

In conclusion, I recommend this paper (with minor changes) be mature for publication.
