

Review of: "A Review of the Drawdown Zone in African Reservoirs: Current Knowledge, Understudied Areas and Recommendations for Future Research"

Rosa Ma Leal-Bautista<sup>1</sup>

<sup>1</sup> Centro de Investigación Científica de Yucatán

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The paper makes an important contribution by integrating a relevant topic using a novel methodology. However, it is not clear what the aim of the paper is. I suggest some reorganization in the introduction and discussion to enrich the arguments.

If there is previous information about the watershed conditions, some references about why PRISM is the adequate methodology should be included as well.