

Review of: "Redefining borders in the contested territory between San Pedro and San Andres Cholula"

Michael Armand P. Canilao¹

¹ University of the Philippines Manila

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

A very interesting article that is ready for publication. The author may further enrich the study by looking at literature on “uneven geographies.” Further input on the GDP generation of both territories and potential contributions of the contested space would also be interesting.