I just posted my evaluation. Then I turned to one of the articles cited: Schnell, T., & Pali, S. (2013). Pilgrimage Today: The Meaning Making Potential of Ritual. Mental Health, Religion in Culture, 16(9), 887–902.

To my dismay, I realized that Schnell and Pali did a much better job than the new author. In fact, she basically copied their findings, used their methodology, their theoretical arguments, expanded on them slightly, and cited more sources. In light of that situation, I must reject the paper altogether.
