

Review of: "Enhancing Soil Stabilization in Soft Soils Through The Addition of Sand to Soil-Cement Piles: a Comprehensive Study"

Jiji Krishnan

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

Upon review, it is evident that the introduction would benefit from further refinement to enhance clarity and engagement. Additionally, graphs are notably absent from the article.

Furthermore, the document's novelty is not particularly exceptional, and there is a need to address the omission of crucial studies and citations. A more comprehensive literature review is recommended to acknowledge the broader body of relevant research.

In summary, the manuscript lacks innovative results. We propose revising the methodology and analysis to identify opportunities for presenting more impactful and original findings.