The study is very interesting, but the manuscript needs some revision before being considered for publication

1. Column 3 of table 2 needs to be shortened and written in more technical terms. It is looking very prosaic.
2. The column 3 of table 2 can also be further split into a separate column which will contain the mode of application.
3. In the discussion section, discussion about the important bioactive compounds present in the plants used by midwives should be given and also their pharmacological activities should be added specially in context of gynecology. This would further strengthen the manuscript. Finally, a para about the prospects of the study would further strengthen the study.
4. Add pictures of the plants used by the midwives of the study area and also a picture of the interview being taken by the authors.
