

Review of: "Post-Publication Racism: A Nail in the Coffin of Academic Medical Publishing"

Asha Tyagi

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

A concept of post-publication racism offers a new perspective to dwell upon. Although it may find some merit in the real world, it would be difficult to prove it for sure. Nevertheless, I congratulate the author to have penned down the thoughts.

One suggestion of particular value is the inclusion of deserving authors from developing countries onto editorial boards/reviewer panels.

I have only 2 minor suggestions as follows:

1. Page 3/line 5: "double kick.....this line is not very clear. would the author like to re-phrase it please?"
2. Page 3, lines 10-12: ...persistence may not always be due to a racial discrimination. The sentence could be rephrased accordingly? Perhaps a more accurate phrasing could be that persistence of repeating the same .....COULD be due to a racist attitude AT TIMES. These COULD also be with the aim of hindering.....