

Review of: "The two sides of Experienced Crisis: Enabling and preventing Coping strategies during Covid-19 Pandemic"

Matylda Sierakowska¹

¹ Medical University of Białystok

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The manuscript is methodologically correct. It contains a good description of the study group and a method based on qualitative assessment. The rich literature presented in this paper has been used. The manuscript provides an interesting experience related to the COVID 19 pandemic. I apply for the publication of the manuscript in Qeios.