

Review of: "[Mini-review] The Global Impact and Management of Foodborne RNA Viruses"

Ionela Gouandjika<sup>1</sup>

<sup>1</sup> Institut Pasteur de Bangui

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

It's a mini-review that succinctly describes what's currently known about the foodborne RNA viruses, their impact, and management. It is interesting for scientists, young ones especially, who are interested in working on the subject. This could inspire research on aspects not yet or not enough addressed. I recommend the publication of this article.