

Review of: "Cross-national associations of IQ and infectious diseases: Is the prevalence of Corona an exceptional case?"

Khadija Shams

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

It is a very interesting study. However, I would encourage the author to write explicitly in concluding remarks that what is already known on the topic and what this study adds. Plus potential future directions or public policy interventions (if any).

At the end of the introduction section the author should specify the aim of the study.