

Review of: "The EU's Capacity for Enlargement: Does It Matter?"

Dr. Shoaib Khan<sup>1</sup>

<sup>1</sup> University of Mumbai

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

This could be an interesting study. However, it needs to be further improved as indicated below:

1. Research questions need to be clearly and properly posed both in the abstract and the introduction of the paper;
2. Overall, the methodology used is fine. Hence, the author needs to develop a relevant methodology that can analyze the data.
3. Some more diagrams and figures are required to enhance the work and increase its weightage.
4. Literature review on the subject is though good enough; thus, there is an academic necessity to review relevant literature on the subject in order to transform this seemingly report to an academic article;
5. Data presented is though good enough, it needs to be updated till the latest;
6. Finally, the language used is almost good; there are grammar issues as well that need to be resolved.
7. I suggest the paper to be published with minor changes as suggested.