This is a very interesting review. I accept it in its current form. I think it is very well written. It is a complete study that explores future scenarios and trends in Italian cruise tourism in the aftermath of the global pandemic, focusing on the case of MSC Cruises. Both the theoretical framework and the development of the article, as well as the bibliography, are very well presented. I would highlight, above all, the theme of sustainability, very well integrated into the text, the details through the figures, and the updated bibliography. I recommend it for publication in its current form. Congratulations!
