The article discusses very important current issues. In this sense, not only does it identify some of today's problems, but it also seeks to present some solutions for these. I also emphasize that the article is readable.

However, even though the author mentions at the beginning of the article that this is not a scientific article, I think it would improve its quality especially if: a) He defines a specific theme and problem; b) He specifies a working method; c) He uses a bibliography.

I would also like to point out that I did not understand why the author mentioned several cities throughout the article.
