

Review of: "The Role of Women's Business Performance in Promoting Sustainable Development"

Wagih Salama¹

¹ King Faisal University

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

abstract:

It is comprehensive in presenting the theoretical aspects, Abstract should be explained and described clearly and specifically. As well, it seems important to notice, that it would be needed to concentrate on the discussion and conclusions of the study.

methods:

Everything mentioned in this section is an explanation of the importance of the method and theories used for application. The researcher did not specify the source of the questionnaire used. It is important to show the questionnaire questions.

results:

It is important to obtain some demographic information for the study sample,

Correlation Analysis:

Please display the search results directly. The introduction to correlations has no importance in the study. Please delete it and start from the table4 part.

I agree with the opinions of the other reviewers that the topic is Very important, especially with the development of business management but The way study is conducted needs to be improved(Structure and flow), Sampling strategy and sampling unit is ambiguous.