The manuscript has merit. The topic is quite actual and it fits within the Qeios aim and scope.

The paper is well organised and it results easy to be ready and really attractive. I think it could represent a milestone and a reference point for the international community, the scholars and the clinicians who's approaching osteonecrosis of the jaw drugs related.

Authors made excellent job merging their knowledge realising the paper and giving the Readers the opportunity of having full informations about so debated topic.
