Interesting article and relevant to the nursing profession, especially in providing quality nursing care. While reviewing the article, I found some issues to be improved in the document. Here are my comments;

1. The introduction is quite long. It needs to be short, focusing on the important concepts.
2. There are some old references used in the document. References before 2012 should be updated.
3. How did you get 233 samples? The sample size calculation needs to be included.
4. Don't repeat results in the discussion.
5. Your discussion and conclusion are almost the same. Re-write the conclusion
6. You used references in the conclusion.
