

Review of: "Factors Affecting the Social Outreach of Microfinance Institutions: Evidence from Ethiopian Microfinance Institutions"

Prakash Singh

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

It is a good effort to understand social impact of Microfinance Institutions in Ethiopia. The variables chosen are quite standard proxies used in the literature. The observations are suitably analysed and conclusions nicely written. I just want the author to improve upon the introduction by explaining little more on the motivation for the study and what this research is trying to achieve.