I appreciate the concepts that are brought up. They are very important and will likely arise again. I recommend changing the grammar to past tense in the introduction. The world is transitioning to a post-covid response. With regard to your recommendation- you have room to expand and give some additional idea on how you anticipate those additional roles to be helpful. For example.. you talk about a family doctor and you talk about a nurse practitioner and interdisciplinary team functioning. These are very very generalized statements. Overall, I think this is a good start, but adding data and more explanation can make the paper more robust
