Review of: "Agile Learning: An innovative curriculum for educators"

Marianthi Oikonomakou[1]

1 Aegean University

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The research presents the main axes and primary objectives of the Agile2Learn curriculum aiming at empowering teachers in primary and secondary education by creating a dynamic, effective and collaborative learning environment. It effectively outlines the competences required for educators to effectively implement agile learning methodologies and to navigate in the contemporary educational landscape.

The latest version of the article has largely integrated the reviwers' initial suggestions, regarding the enrichment of the references and the more detailed description of the research methodology. Therefore, the current version is significantly improved from the initial one in terms of its structure and academic documentation.