Cyber-fingerprint

Mohanad Ali[1]

1 University of Technology - Iraq

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

Cyber-fingerprint refers to a unique digital signature or footprint left by an individual or device when engaging in online activities. It can include various data points such as IP addresses, browser settings, operating system information, cookies, and other identifiers that help identify and track users across different websites and online platforms.