The paper is a good academic contribution by highlighting A various important social dynamic issues faced by women however my comments are as follows:

1. The 12 indicators derived from the literature review need to be justified and how the common scale of such indicators has been derived by considering 6632 reviewed articles.
2. All the indicators reflected the various attributes of sanitation whereas the title of the research paper reflects the concept of water with sanitation which is considered for drinking purposes in addition to other usage.
3. Methodology for driving use database to be carried out by various scientific techniques on a collective manner.
