Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

It is an interesting and fascinating article in elucidating the food security in Africa.

There are so many factors to stipulate the diet diversity and the author raised several examples of socio-economic ones.

As other reviewers commented, further discussion is needed why not mathematics but English influenced the diet diversity. In general, Ghanaian takes is higher diet diversity compared with neighboring countries. Cultural discussion over the diet diversity will deepen your thoughts. [\[1\]](#)

Minor changes: Unify word such as "Healthful" and "healthy."
