Review of: "On the Resilience of Urban Real Estate Development"

Susi Ferrarello

1 California State University, East Bay

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The topic is very interesting and timely. Proper use of literature and secondary sources. I think this article serves not only the literature debate on sustainability and resilience but the community in terms of actions that need to be taken to improve the quality of our lives.