Review of: "Assessing the Challenges and Opportunities of Micro and Small Scale Enterprises (MSEs) in Hawassa City Administration of Sidama Region, Ethiopia"

Christopher Amoah[1]

1 University of the Free State

Assessing the Challenges and Opportunities of Micro and Small-Scale Enterprises (MSEs) in Hawassa City Administration of Sidama Region, Ethiopia

Abstract

- This section is well-written; however, the data collection method, sampling method, and implication of the study were not stated.
- Arrange the keywords in alphabetical order.

Introduction

- The author has comprehensively discussed the same challenges, intending to investigate, making the study irrelevant in terms of generating new ideas in the body of knowledge. The author should show the gap in literature this study addresses.
- The research objectives should be part of the introduction.

Literature Review

- The author failed to discuss the relevant literature. This section should be divided into sections to cover all the issues related to the research objectives.

Methodology

- This section was poorly discussed with no explanation as to why the methodology adopted is appropriate for data validity. Three sentences cannot be used as an explanation for data collection, research design, and approach.
- Explain the target population.

Results

- No demographic data of the respondents was presented.
- The data presented are only for challenges. No data on opportunities was presented, yet the author claimed to have identified opportunities for SMEs in the abstract section.

- There was no discussion section discussing the research findings in line with the stated objectives.
- The implications of the findings were not discussed.

Conclusion

- This section is poorly done and should be refined after the above corrections.
- Recommendations must be given to the necessary stakeholders.

Note: The author must read a published paper using a quantitative approach to refine the paper.