In my opinion, the article needs major revisions before it is ready for publication.

Although the topic is of utmost importance, there are several limitations:

Abstract should have been more detailed concerning methodology and results . Further It has no conclusions.

The review of literature needs to be more organized. Methods are vague, concerning the characterization of interviews (people and content).

Figures need to be characterized in more detail, particularly for readers illiterate on the subject. Also the conclusions are not based on the results.
