Review of: "Tweeting AI: A Machine Learning Approach for Bird Species Detection and Classification"

Madhuri Devi Chodey

1. The abstract need to be refined in a concrete way with the metrics.

2. Need major updations.

3. Training and testing and validation of the model should be compared with other latest existing methods with necessary parameters like accuracy, precision etc.

4. The conclusion section should be rewritten in order to provide insightful research suggestions.

5. Overall structure of the paper is not up to the mark. It needs to be proofread.

6. Citations and References need to be added.
