To Authors:

- 1- The abstract should redesign, and I don't see any flow in the abstract except for storytelling.
- 2- More up-to-date citations and references should be added in the introduction section.
- 3- This paper seems to be covering a very interesting topic, investigating The Consequences of Political and Economic Choices: Exploring Disaster Vulnerability with the Structure, Resource, and Behavior Change model (SRAB) while the topic is potentially interesting, I found this paper nearly challenging to read because the language was particularly difficult. Many sentences seemed to try to smash together 3 or 4 ideas into a single, awkward sentence that used a variety of clauses to try to link the ideas. I found myself having to reread nearly every sentence to extract meaning.
- 4- Correct the reference, just like this some references are not according to the journal format. Please correct it.
- 5- Conclusion is not comprehensive, needs development.
- 6- Polish the English to avoid typos or incomplete sentences along the paper. Therefore, language needs to be edited.
