

Review of: "Does Anger Management Among Prisoners Work? — A Review of Recent Meta-Analyses"

Francesca Randazzo-Eisemann<sup>1</sup>

<sup>1</sup> Universidad Nacional Autónoma de Honduras

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The topic is socially primordial: Anger Management Among Prisoners. It is urgent to rethink what is considered universal from the periphery, so the fact that it is a study carried out from India gives a privileged place for observing a crucial issue, a possibility of rethinking anger and prisons, especially for Westernized societies that are trapped in thoughts with difficulty seeing beyond what has already been legitimized. Is it possible to enrich the article with wider sources?