

Open Peer Review on Qeios

Somatomammotropinoma

INSERM

Source

INSERM. (1999). Orphanet: an online rare disease and orphan drug data base.

Somatomammotropinoma. ORPHA:314769

Somatomammotropinoma is a rare, mixed, functioning pituitary adenoma characterized by the cosecretion of growth hormone and prolactin, which manifests with signs and symptoms of both acromegaly and hyperprolactinemia.