Dear authors,

I hope you are doing well. Thank you for the opportunity to review your article. I am impressed with your work. However, I have some comments. My first comment is that there are some grammatical errors in the article. Please kindly work on these errors. Also, I found 21% similarity index, in other words, plagiarized words. Please, kindly try to reduce this to at least 5%.

In your discussion, please try to give public health implications for each of your findings and try to compare and contrast them to other similar studies in Cameroon and other African countries, Asian, European and American countries/regions. I noticed that these are missing in the discussion. Please kindly work on this.

Your recommendation is poorly written. Please try to be affirmative. Start each recommendation with; 'We urge' or 'We recommend' or 'Based on our findings above, it is important or necessary for the Cameroonian government to ...' Also, try to be specific in your recommendations.

Thank you.
