

Review of: "Evaluating Hydrologic, Geomorphic, and Vegetation Parameters to Assess Natural, Living, and Hardened Shorelines along the Northern Gulf of Mexico"

Ilda Entraigas¹

¹ Instituto de Hidrología de Llanuras

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

I think the article is very good. The theme is very interesting, and the analysis contemplates both a particular instance for the groups of variables of different natures and a final integrating instance. Despite the complexity of the proposal, the presentation of the article is orderly and therefore the reading flows easily. I especially loved the graph that they built to synthesize the conceptual model representing the results found. Good job!