

Review of: "Review: Human papillomavirus (HPV)"

Mehmet Sarier<sup>1</sup>

<sup>1</sup> Istinye University

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

This review should be expanded.

In recent years, there has been significant progress in HPV-related malignancies. This subject should be explained more extensively.

In addition, the latest developments in HPV screening in men and women should be written. Such as self sampling approaches in women, multi-site sampling approach in men.

The following articles can be added as references. To increase the value content of the review.

Sarier M, Ceyhan AM, Sepin N, Ozel E, Inal MM, Kukul E, Soyulu A. HPV infection in urology practice. Int Urol Nephrol. 2020 Jan;52(1):1-8. doi: 10.1007/s11255-019-02302-2

Sarier M, Sepin N, Emek M, Konuk EY, Kaplan T, Yuksel BA, Barut Z, Cakcak DS, Hoscan MB. Evaluation of the optimal sampling approach for HPV genotyping in circumcised heterosexual men with genital warts. J Infect Chemother. 2023 May;29(5):475-480. doi: 10.1016/j.jiac.2023.01.017.

Sarier M, Usta SS, Turgut H, et al. Prognostic value of HPV DNA in Urothelial Carcinoma of the Bladder: A Preliminary Report of 2-Year Follow-up Results. Urol J. 2021;19(1):45-49. doi:10.22037/uj.v18i.6429